Refund and Cancellation Policy

Last updated: 11 October 2026

Subscriptions

You may cancel a subscription at any time through the Stripe customer billing portal or by emailing medwithrish@gmail.com. Cancellation stops future renewals. Unless required by law or stated at checkout, the current paid billing period remains active and is not automatically refunded.

Digital products

Because digital content may be supplied immediately, you may lose a statutory cancellation right once delivery begins if you expressly agreed to immediate access. This does not affect rights relating to faulty, misdescribed or inaccessible content. Contact us promptly if there is a problem and we will work to fix it or provide an appropriate remedy.

Tutoring sessions

Please request cancellation or rescheduling by email as soon as possible. We aim to be reasonable and review requests individually rather than applying a rigid deadline. Where a tutoring session has not taken place, we will normally try to offer a refund or reschedule when you contact us promptly. Late cancellations and missed sessions may be treated differently where time has been reserved or preparation has already been completed.

Premium subscription refunds

If you request a refund shortly after a subscription payment, we will consider whether the Premium features have been used during the relevant billing period. A refund is more likely where Premium access has not been used, or where there was a genuine technical or other issue that prevented you from using the service. If Premium features have been substantially used, the payment may be non-refundable, although we may still offer a partial refund or another fair solution depending on the circumstances.

This is a discretionary fairness policy and does not remove any mandatory consumer rights. Subscription cancellation prevents future renewals but does not automatically refund a billing period that has already started.

How to request a refund

Email medwithrish@gmail.com with your name, purchase email, order or subscription details, and the reason for your request. Approved refunds are returned to the original payment method through Stripe. Processing times depend on your bank or card provider.

Nothing in this policy limits your mandatory consumer rights.
